- Messaging for the Abortionist Ballot Initiative 03-03-23
- The abortion industry's amendment campaign is dangerous and designed to mislead voters into supporting a dangerous and extreme agenda.

The amendment's very title is a fraud.

“The Right to Reproductive Freedom with Protections for Health and Safety” contains no protections for health and safety. In reality, the amendment would eliminate existing health and safety protections for women in Ohio law. It would invalidate current laws that ensure a woman is screened and counseled by a licensed doctor who can transfer her into a local hospital if something goes wrong.

The amendment empowers the abortionist.

Amendment language purporting to allow protections for viable unborn babies actually gives the abortionist the final decision on whether the child is viable.

The amendment would even remove the basic rights of parents. Parents would no longer need to be informed or provide consent for their underage daughter to undergo an abortion.

The amendment language clearly forbids any law that “directly or indirectly” would “burden” or “interfere” with any “reproductive decisions.” Those are specific legal terms which have been interpreted by courts across the country to strike down parental notification and consents laws. This has already occurred in deep blue states like California and Vermont, but even in Florida, a bad court case prevented parents from knowing if their minor daughter sought an abortion for three decades. The amendment also explicitly protects third parties who “assist” in procuring an abortion for underage girls.

The amendment would bring painful, late-term abortions, including abortions right up until the moment of birth, to the state of Ohio, providing no protections for the unborn.

Amendment language purporting to allow protections for viable unborn babies actually gives the abortionist the final decision on whether the child is viable. It also contains a massive loophole allowing abortion post-viability if “it is necessary to protect the pregnant patient’s life or health. When the “health” is specifically left undefined, courts have always interpreted it to include mental health, and even financial and social health - making it effectively impossible to enforce any protections at any time during a pregnancy.

The amendment would enshrine in the Ohio constitution an extreme abortion regime that would prevent common sense, common ground protections for women and children which are supported by large majorities in Ohio and across the country.

A Harvard-Harris national poll found 72% of voters would limit abortions by no later than 15 weeks, including 75% of women, 70% of Independents and 60% of rank-and-file Democrats. https://harvardharrispoll.com/wp-content/uploads/2022/07/HHP_June2022_KeyResults.pdf 69% of Americans support limiting abortion to, at most, the first three months of pregnancy – this includes 72% of women, 71% of Independents and nearly half of rank-and-file Democrats. <https://www.kofc.org/en/resources/communications/polls/2023-kofc-marist-poll-presentation.pdf>

This abortion-industry-led initiative would require taxpayer funding of abortions.

The amendment language clearly forbids any law that “directly or indirectly” would “burden” or “interfere” with any “reproductive decisions.” Those are specific legal terms which have been interpreted by courts across the country to require states to fund abortions (Alaska taxpayers are forced to pay for elective abortions because the state supreme court found that a right to abortion in the state constitution created a mandate for taxpayer funding).

Please remember these points as you talk to your membership

>This effort to rewrite our constitution would make Ohio home to extreme abortion. The abortion industry wants to force Ohio to allow abortion any time, for any reason, right up to birth. That would include abortions when the unborn baby can feel pain, paid for by taxpayers, and would permit no protections for the most vulnerable.

>This extreme rewrite of the Ohio constitution would even remove the basic rights of parents. Parents would no longer need to be informed or provide consent for their underage girl to undergo an abortion and would even outlaw existing health and safety regulations that protect women.

>This amendment puts women in danger. Basic health and safety standards to protect patients would be eliminated for abortions in the proposed re-writing of the constitution, endangering women’s health. Ohioans should reject this dangerous attempt to lower standards for women’s health.

>These radical changes to our constitution are not being championed by Ohioans, but by out of state special interest groups with a political agenda to force every taxpayer to subsidize abortions up to birth, when an unborn baby can feel pain and you can hear its heartbeat, with no basic, commonsense protections.

>Ohioans need to reject this radical liberal push to rewrite our constitution to remove parental rights, doing away with Ohio parental consent laws that protect minor girls, and outlawing basic protections for women.
